

For over 37 years, my family and I, have called Palm Coast Home. Through the ups and downs, heavy construction and quiet woods, influx of new faces and the comfort of old friends we rode the wave of Palm Coast. I spent almost my entire adult life here, since I was 22 years of age. If you asked me a year ago, what I would be doing this year I would have answered "campaigning of course". But lo, a year is a long time to predict and things happen.

Aside from family time, the last three and half years have been my favorite in Palm Coast. Running for and winning an election for City Council District 4 was an exciting and edifying experience as has been serving in that position for the same period. I have had the privilege to meet and interact with the best of Palm Coast, which technically is a lot of people from the North East, so I feel like I never really left.

We had planned to move within the next 2-3 years and that was what forced the decision to not run for re-election. However, due to family health issues we have greatly accelerated that move and we are there. So regretfully I must announce my resignation from the position of Council Member for District 4 effective May 16, 2018.

I want you to know that I consider this position as one of my most honored. I have never enjoyed being verbally abused and praised so much. When it happened, I knew they were listening and that was a great pleasure.

In all my years in Palm Coast the first question you asked someone was, "where are you from?". I would always answer "Brooklyn". Now, in Tampa, when someone asks that question I will proudly answer, "Palm Coast"
