

Flagler Reads Together

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS 2018 “The Alice Network” by Kate Quinn

3/02 Friday 2pm Kickoff featuring Joe Knetsch, a Florida Historian with extensive knowledge about WWI. The title of his presentation is: “Intelligence in the Great War: Spying and Other Arts during the Global Conflict.” (Meeting Room)

3/10 Saturday 2pm Discussion and presentation by Gary Mormino regarding the Facts and History of St. Augustine during the Great War. Gary is the Frank E. Duckwall Professor Emeritus in History at the University of South Florida in St. Petersburg. (DCR)

3/16 Friday 12:00 – 4:00pm Warren Chard will display and talk about his exhibit of World War I artifacts. The public is welcome to attend anytime between the identified hours. (DCR)

3/21 Wednesday 10:00 – 1:00pm Holden House Museum Open House. This year is also the centennial anniversary of the Holden House Museum in Bunnell. Located at: 204 East Moody Blvd in Bunnell, Fl. (386-437-0600). Flagler County Historical representatives will be on hand to tell local history, stories and answer questions. (Bunnell)

3/23 Friday 2pm Nancy Duke-Birkhead, Professor at Daytona Beach College will discuss: “Roles of Women during WWI”. (DCR)

3/28 Wednesday 3:30pm Flagler Book Club. Book discussion focusing on the FRT book selection. This book club is open to the public. (Meeting Room)

3/31 Saturday 2pm Finale Event featuring Tom Schmidt, a history professor at Florida State College in Jacksonville. He and his wife recently toured two battlefields of WWI in France, Somme and Verdun. He has taken some beautiful and touching pictures of the battlefields and will be presenting them along with some background history of the area and battles. (DCR)

---

The 17th Annual Flagler Reads Together is sponsored by the Friends of the Flagler County Library.

Library location: 2500 Palm Coast Parkway. N.W., Palm Coast, Florida 386-446-6763