www.employflorida.com

TALLAHASSEE – Florida's seasonally adjusted unemployment rate was 7.5 percent in March 2013, the lowest since October 2008 when it was 7.4 percent. Florida's Nonagricultural Employment by Industry (Seasonally Adjusted)

- The number of jobs in Florida was 7,507,100 in March 2013, up 141,300 jobs compared to a year ago. March 2013 was the 32nd consecutive month with positive annual job growth after the state lost jobs for over three years. The industry gaining the most jobs was leisure and hospitality (+45,300 jobs, +4.6 percent).
- Other industries gaining jobs included trade, transportation, and utilities (+42,300 jobs, +2.8 percent); professional and business services (+25,100, +2.4 percent); private education and health services (+24,000 jobs, +2.2 percent); construction (+8,500 jobs, +2.5 percent); financial activities (+4,200 jobs, +0.8 percent); and other services (+3,200 jobs, +1.0 percent).
- These industry job gains were partially due to increases in food services and drinking places; motor vehicle and parts dealers; services to buildings and dwellings; ambulatory health care services; construction of buildings; real estate; and membership associations and organizations.
- Industries losing jobs over the year included total government (-8,400 jobs, -0.8 percent), manufacturing (-2,700 jobs, -0.9 percent), and information (-300 jobs, -0.2 percent).
- These industry job losses were partially due to declines in local government, miscellaneous durable goods manufacturing, and telecommunications.

Local Area Unemployment Statistics (Not Seasonally Adjusted)

- In March 2013, Monroe County (3.8 percent) had the state's lowest unemployment rate, followed by Walton County (4.3 percent), Okaloosa County (4.8 percent), Alachua County (5.1 percent), and St. Johns County (5.3 percent). Many of the counties with the lowest unemployment rates were those with relatively high proportions of government employment. Strong population growth was also a contributing factor.
- Hendry County had the highest unemployment rate (10.0 percent) in Florida in March 2013, followed by Flagler County (9.5 percent), Putnam County (9.4 percent), Miami-Dade County (9.2 percent), and St. Lucie County (8.8 percent). Hendry County had the highest unemployment rate in the state mainly due to long-term losses in state government jobs. Hendry County was the only county in Florida with a double-digit unemployment rate in March. In February, three counties had jobless rates above 10.0 percent.

Area Nonagricultural Employment (Not Seasonally Adjusted)

- Nineteen of the 22 metro areas in the state had over-the-year job gains in March 2013. The areas with the largest gains were Tampa-St. Petersburg-Clearwater (+35,900 jobs, +3.1 percent), Jacksonville (+16,700 jobs, +2.8 percent), and Ft. Lauderdale-Pompano Beach-Deerfield Beach (+14,500, +2.0 percent).
- Of the three metro areas experiencing over-the-year job declines, Panama City-Lynn Haven-Panama City Beach (-1,200 jobs, -1.6 percent) experienced the greatest decline followed by Palm Coast (-100 jobs, -0.5 percent) and Punta Gorda (-100 jobs, -0.2 percent).

Note: The unemployment and job growth rates are estimates, which are primarily based on surveys created and mandated by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics in cooperation with the Florida Department of Economic Opportunity.

The unemployment rate is derived from Florida household surveys conducted by the U.S. Census Bureau under contract with the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. The job growth rate is derived from Florida employer surveys conducted by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Both estimates are revised on a monthly basis. In addition, these estimates are benchmarked (revised) annually based on actual counts from Florida's Reemployment Assistance tax records and other data.

Procedures mandated by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics may result in more variable month-to-month changes. For further information, go to: <http://www.bls.gov/sae/cesprocs.htm>

The mission of the Florida Department of Economic Opportunity is to promote economic prosperity for all Floridians and businesses through successful workforce, community, and economic development strategies. Please visit www.floridajobs.org for more information.
