Highlights

Birds of a Feather Festival:

Staff wrapped another successful Birds of a Feather Festival this weekend. The event kicked off on Friday with visitors starting early as they traveled to many outlying birding walks and tours. On Saturday, hundreds of residents and visitors visited PeaCee's Big Backyard, watched the Birds of Prey Show, and learned how to make their backyard bird and butterfly friendly. Guides also led bird walks on several excursions in Palm Coast, Flagler County and beyond. Staff led bird walks around Central Park and the trails in Town Center. Several Boy Scout troops joined in the bird walks in Central Park, earning their Bird Study merit badge.

Saturday evening visitors enjoyed a night of fun as acclaimed wildlife photographer Moose Peterson shared his experiences and photographs as the festival's keynote address at the Flagler Auditorium.

The fun concluded on Sunday, with more traveling bird walks for visitors. This year, the 4th annual Birds of a Feather Festival was the most visited of all, and staff are already looking towards next year's exciting event.

Communications & Marketing

The Birds of a Feather Fest soared to new heights this year! Hundreds of residents and visitors explored PeaCee's Big Backyard to see the birds of prey from the Audubon Center for Birds of Prey in Maitland, go birding on the trails near Central Park, learn how to set up their own backyards to be bird and butterfly friendly and enjoy the many activities a beautiful backyard in Palm Coast offers. Twenty-three Boy Scouts from troops in Palm Coast, Daytona Beach and DeLand spent the morning with us earning their Bird Study merit badge.

Saturday night was a special treat for photographers and nature-lovers when acclaimed wildlife photographer Moose Peterson of California, gave a keynote address at the Flagler Auditorium. The "Rooted in Nature" video was shown at the event, and we gave the audience wildflower seeds and a branded, educational piece on "Things YOU can do to make a difference every day."

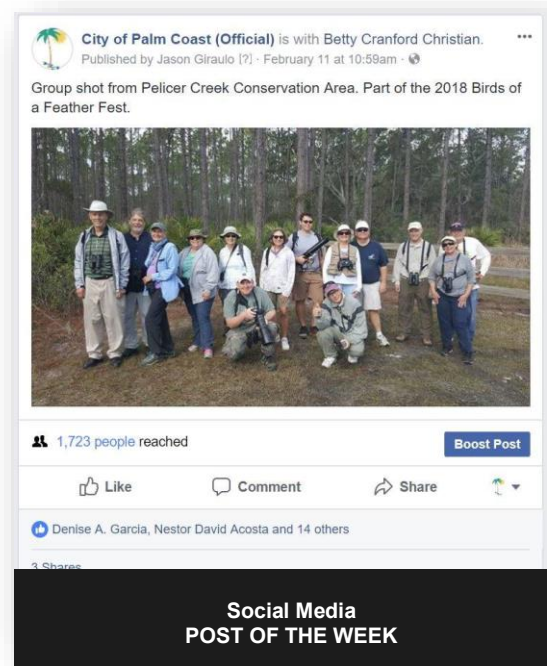

The weather was beautiful, the birds were cooperative and plentiful, and birders – those serious in their pursuits and those who are beginners – experienced outstanding birding on the trails of Flagler County and beyond. Our Division ran the festival and documented it with video and photos. Thank you to Event Coordinator Jason Giraulo, the City's Digital Communications Coordinator, all involved staff and our sponsors for putting on an exceptional event!

The Brand Plus Team met this week to finish planning the 2018 Find Your Florida Photo Contest, which will kick off March 1. The team will have a spot at the Employee Wellness Fair later this month.

Our Division is now turning its focus to upcoming projects including production of the Annual Progress Report, the Grand Re-Opening of the Community Center (March 23) and the State of the City luncheon (April 3). This week we participated in Bunnell Elementary's Career Day visit, staffed the Council Workshop, attended an FPRA workshop on PR processes, and sent news releases about Spring Break Camps (March 12-16), the Pickleball Ladder League starting March 1, the tree replacement project to begin Feb. 19 and a road closure on Reindeer Lane on Feb. 20. We posted to Facebook/Twitter/Instagram.

Monday kicked off a new C.H.I.R.P. program called City Career Day where City Hall staff hosted 56 Bunnell Elementary sixth graders. The students rotated through several departments where chosen fields were preselected to feature the array of City positions that might one day be available to them. The event was well received by students and City staff alike. Everyone enjoyed the opportunity to collaborate with each other, as it was all hands on deck to make the students experience informative and yet, fun at the same time.

City of Palm Coast to replace unsafe trees along block of Palm Coast Parkway

Palm Coast – Beginning Monday, Feb. 19, the City of Palm Coast will be removing 14 laurel oak trees along westbound Palm Coast Parkway, between Clubhouse Drive and Florida Park Drive.

The laurel oaks being removed are nearing the end of their natural life expectancy, with signs of disease including dead branches high up in the trees, branches that are falling, and large cavities in the tree trunks, said City of Palm Coast Urban Forester Carol Mini. They pose a public safety hazard to pedestrians and motorists.

To mitigate against the removal of the trees, 11 new trees will be planted in that stretch of the parkway – more than what's required by City code. The new trees will be 4-inch-caliper hardwood trees, approximately 16 feet tall.

“We love trees and the tree canopy, and we know the value of what trees provide to our City,” Mini said. “It is our goal to protect mature trees and to promote the planting of new trees, so that our tree canopy remains strong over time.”

The tree removal will be done in-house by the Palm Coast Public Works Department and is being done now to be proactive before hurricane season. The entire project including planting the new trees is expected to take several weeks. The City's Tree Fund will cover the cost of the new trees, which are about $400 each. The Tree Fund is an account that collects equivalent dollar valuations for replacement trees, on both residential and non-residential properties, for tree removals requiring mitigation when there is not sufficient area to re-plant the trees on the original site.

Also as part of the project, four laurel oaks at Heroes Memorial Park, 2860 Palm Coast Pkwy. NW, will be replaced. Those trees also are declining and pose a safety concern.

This project is part of an ongoing effort by the City to identify and replace declining trees across Palm Coast. The City has been recognized for 12 straight years as a Tree City USA, which is based on four standards that show a community is committed to tree protection.

“Hurricane season will be here before we know it,” Mini said. “We encourage all residents to inspect their trees now and do any needed tree maintenance before the summer storms arrive. Regular tree maintenance is important for safety and also for the health of the trees.”

Good information on proper pruning techniques is available at <http://hort.ifas.ufl.edu/woody/pruning.shtml>, and residents can find an arborist and get tree care tips at <http://www.isa-arbor.com/>.

If hiring a tree service, confirm that they're licensed to do work in the City of Palm Coast. Either call 386-986-3766 or go to www.palmcoastgov.com/local-business-search and search for "tree surgeons" in the "Business Type" box.

When meeting with a prospective tree service, ask questions about their training and expertise in pruning. Make sure they would never take off the whole top of a tree. "Topping" a tree and other bad pruning techniques can cause irreparable damage.

Beware of unlicensed tree solicitors. They will oftentimes place a card in your door or solicit on the weekends. A low price should be a red flag on quality.

For more information, contact Cindi Lane, Communications & Marketing Manager, at 386-986-3708 and clane@palmcoastgov.com.

Florida is home to a multitude of wildlife. As we populate the areas where they live, they are forced out of their hiding spots and into our backyards. The most prevalent species of wildlife that you may encounter in your yard is rabbits. These cute little balls of fluff are very fragile and they can easily be hurt. They like to dig in the ground and make their nests with the surrounding grass and dirt. People who have a fair population of rabbits should inspect their yards prior to letting their pets outside. Pets may unearth babies from nests. If you do find a nest in your yard please mark it with string in a crisscross pattern and leave it alone for at least 24 hours. Mom rabbits will be done all day and return to the nests toward dusk. You will know if the nest has been visited if the string has been moved. Contact a local wildlife rehab before removing the nest if you feel it has been abandoned.
